Sommers Goes To Honor Jail

VICTORIA (CP) — Former lands and forests minister Robert Sommers was transferred to nearby William Head minimum security prison last Wednesday, it was learned Tuesday night.

Sommers was sentenced last spring to five years in prison on bribery and conspiracy charges involving the issuing of forest management licences. He was originally sent to the B. C. Penitentiary at New Westminster.

William Grant, supervisor at William Head, said, "he's here under the same circumstances as anyone else—and he'll serve time like anyone else."

START CLASSES

He said arrangements now are being made to start academic and commercial classes for inmates with an accredited civilian teacher in charge.

"When the classes are organized," said Mr. Grant, "it's quite possible that a man like Sommers with his background as a teacher, could be very useful to us."

Sommers might be used as an assistant, he said.

"We're fortunate to get a man of his talents. He's adjusting very well. He's already won the respect of the men."

Mother, 10 Kiddies, Uncle, Drowned In Boating Tragedy

CANADIAN POSTAL EMPLOYEES DEMAND $600 ANNUAL HIKE

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Canadian Postal Employees Association today demanded a $600 yearly salary increase for all postal workers other than letter carriers.

A resolution to this effect was unanimously passed at the CLC-affiliated association's annual convention here.

The move superceded an Ontario-sponsored resolution asking for a $480 pay increase.

Overloaded Craft For More 'Fun'

MUNISING, Mich. (AP) — "They wanted to get in the same boat because it would be more fun."

A bewildered father—the only survivor of a boating accident that took the lives of his wife, 10 children and his brother—was too grief-stricken for tears as he described the tragedy to police.

"I was very confused — it all happened so suddenly," said Leonard Larson, 42, as the bodies were brought ashore from Lake Michigan in upper Michigan's Iliawatha National Forest.

The family, on a day's outing to pick wild cranberries, had piled into a 12-foot outboard motorboat. It capsized 40 feet from shore. None could swim. The father saved himself by climbing atop the overturned boat.

Tired Red Chief In Corn Country

COON RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev, tired but happy, arrived in the heart of Iowa's corn country today and announced: "This is going to be a joyful day."

The Khrushchev motorcade drove into the midst of a scene of enormous confusion and activity.

Swarms of army, air force, police and other security people stood guard all over the farm of Roswell Garst while feverish preparations proceeded for a bountiful luncheon under a huge brown tent in the farmyard.

Thousands of persons, including school children, had lined the route from Des Moines toward Coon Rapids. The children waved and cheered.

En route, the Khrushchev party stopped at one of the several Garst farms along the highway, where workers were busily harvesting.

Khrushchev's look of fatigue was replaced by one of eagerness as he questioned Garst about the methods he used to feed hogs and chickens.

Helpless, he saw his wife, children and his brother, Harry, 64, go down in water so clear that the bodies could be seen 15 feet down.

All the Larsons' children but the oldest daughter, Doris May, 16, were along. She was attending high school in Marquette.

Larson is a sawmill worker in the little lumbering town of Skandia, 30 miles from the scene of the tragedy. Like most big families, his was happy but "poor as church mice," fellow villagers said.

"All the family wanted to come along. They wanted to go in the same boat because it would be more fun."

The children were out of classes because the village school was closed for the day for repairs.

The boat belonged to the uncle, a bachelor, who helped care for some of the children at his home and was always included in the family circle.

"The boat was about 40 feet out in the water when I started the motor," Larson said. "The bow suddenly went down and the boat flopped over, throwing all of us in the water."

"Although I couldn't swim, I was close enough to grab the boat and climb up on the overturned bottom. I had a hand on one of the girls once but I lost hold and she slipped away."

Larson reached shore by using one hand and one leg to row the overturned craft.

The victims were the mother, Mrs. Dora Larson, 41; the uncle, and the children — Arthur, 15; Shirley, 13; Harry, 10; Marlene, 8; Freddie, 8; Cary, 7; Robert, 6; Mary Ann, 5; Melody, 4, and Terry Lee, five months.

Police, River Crew Hunt Missing Five

HOPE (CP) — Police and boatmen today began a search for four men and a woman feared drowned in the Fraser River near Yale, B.C., 10 miles north of here.

A truck owned by one of the men was found in Yale and a boat frequently used by some of the group to cross the river was missing.

Police identified the missing as Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman and Arthur Pat of Yale, and Aldo Busato and Ed Pandero of Spuzzum, B.C., a further 10 miles north of here.

They were seen here together Saturday.

Chapman, a Canadian National Railways foreman at Yale, did not report for work Monday.

The Chapmans, an Indian couple, have six children.

Mr. Pandero is the father of five and his wife is expecting a sixth.

Mr. Pat, also an Indian, is a widower, and Mr. Busato is single.

Police said they fear the group may have upset while crossing the river.

KEEN INTEREST

Khrushchev showed keen interest in the proceedings. He tramped through the field with his host, asking Garst all sorts of questions about the crop and the machinery used to harvest it.

Internationalize DEW Line, Urges Argue

KENTVILLE, N.S. (CP) — Canada should inform the Soviet Union that in the interests of easing tension it is prepared to negotiate on the basis of internationalizing the Distant Early Warning radar line, CCF House Leader Hazen Argue said today.

Civil Defence Deputy Quits

OTTAWA (CP) — Major, Gen. George S. Hutton has resigned as deputy federal civil defence coordinator in protest over the federal government's new civil defence policy.

Ball Fever Sweeps Chicago's Populace

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicagoans reacted today to the White Sox American League baseball victory as dozing parents would to the long-awaited marriage of a splinter daughter.

For years they questioned, "Is this the one?"

(The White Sox had 40 years of famine.)

Then the seemingly hours-long wait at the church as the wedding party awaited the walk to the altar and marriage ceremony.

(The White Sox "climber" had fans here breathless in the ninth inning with one out and the bases loaded until relief pitcher Gerry Staley came in, threw one ball and Cleveland's Vic Power ended the game by hitting into a double play.)

The White Sox had won the pennant.

Minutes after the Sox defeated Cleveland 4-2 in Cleveland last night the noise began.

In Cook County jail, prisoners who had been permitted to listen on a radio broadcast began banging with tin cups on cell bars.

Automobiles loaded with shouting citizens streamed downtown.

At State and Madison Streets downtown, called "the world's busiest corner," an immense traffic jam developed.

At 10:30 p. m., about an hour after the game had ended, the Chicago fire department and city civil defence officials issued an order permitting the use of air raid sirens. The sirens usually are turned on Tuesday mornings in practice drills; never at night.

The state civil defence director deplored "the unauthorized use of civil defence sirens" and protested formally to the city government.

The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. reported the greatest volume of telephone calls since the end of the war. The callers mostly wanted to know of operators: "RUSSIANS?"

"What's happening?" and "are the Russians coming?"

One woman reported "I was on my knees praying for five minutes" because she thought the sirens warned that the city was under atomic attack.

One man complained to The Associated Press:

"It's damned ignorant and pretty stupid. That system was set up for emergency use only."

As the sirens abated, the rush was on to Midway Airport on the far southwest side where the White Sox arrived early today by plane from Cleveland. Within two hours after the game, some 15,000 fans jammed the airport area.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A warning that future traffic jams on Canada's highways could seriously interfere with the country's economy was made today by the retiring president of the Canadian Good Roads Association.

idently mauled in the mixer at Wilson Pumice Products Ltd., 1146 St. Paul St.

He was rushed to hospital by city ambulance.

Old Age Pension Residence Ruling May Be Abolished

OTTAWA (CP) — The government may drop the requirement that to qualify for the universal old age pension an applicant must live at least six months of the year in Canada.

Informed sources said Tuesday such a step may precede the adoption of a contributory feature to the present pension plan. Extension to include a contributory feature probably will be made in 1962.

The government has been pressed recently to drop the six-month-at-home requirement. It is argued that over the 10 or more years that pension applicants have lived in Canada they have paid in taxes a considerable portion of the pension benefits they enjoy.

Mr. Black gave overwork as the main reason for his decision. He said the position has been "tantamount to a full time job."

over the last two years while he still has "tremendous commitments" with his own union, Local 180 of the Hospital Employees Union.

There has been strong pressure on the labor leader to run against Health Minister Martin in Vancouver-Burrard.

"I probably will if I'm asked," Mr. Black said. "I'm certainly going to give it a lot of consideration."

REPLIES TO PENTICTON. BRIEF

15-MPH School Zoning Will Be Eliminated, Says Gaglardi

PENTICTON (CP) — Highways Minister Gaglardi said Tuesday elimination of 15 mile an hour school zones coupled with emphasis on the proper use of school crosswalks is in the interests of highway safety.

Mr. Gaglardi was replying to a brief presented to a special cabinet meeting here which urged re-establishment of speed limits near four schools in Penticton.

He said 15 mile an hour zones are being eliminated throughout the province.

The brief was among 14 which were taken to the cabinet's meeting by trade boards, agriculture organizations and municipal governments.

A plea was made by C. L. Finch, president of the Cawston Board of Trade, for early completion of the Richter Pass cutoff road from Keremeos to Osoyoos as part of the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway.

WIDE SUPPORT

It was endorsed by the Osoyoos, Merritt and Princeton trade boards.

Representatives from the Osoyoos, East Osoyoos and Black Sage irrigation districts urged that the districts, covering more than 500 acres, be incorporated into the Southern Okanagan Lands Project, a government irrigation agency.

Premier Bennett said the government would not give any financial support to a proposal presented by Revelstoke that a $1,250,000 hydro-electric plant be built on nearby Cranberry Creek to supply the city's power needs.

A brief presented by A. T. Blech, central secretary of the Okanagan-Kootenay Co-Operative Growers Association, was received without comment.

Mr. Blech said the organization which he represented did not have any confidence in the British Columbia Fruit Growers Association nor its officials.

He asked the provincial government for legislation to "democratize" the tree fruit marketing setup and end the present "compulsory, monopolistic sales policy."

Premier Bennett later told a dinner meeting that the Social Credit government has eliminated $191,000,000 in direct debt and has accumulated $432,000,000 in fixed assets by last March.

He said the province could expect revenue of $1,000,000,000 from the tourist industry this year.

VERNON FAMILY LOSES ALL

Teddy Bear, One Of Few Items Saved From Blaze

VERNON (Staff) — A teddy bear is one of the few mementos the Robert Penning will have of their home.

Nearly all their possessions were wiped out when fire swept through their rented Mara Street house in North Vernon.

Nothing that belonged to them was insured.

The Penning have five children, aged 12, 10, six, four and two months. Mrs. Penning, who was in bed with flu when the fire broke out, managed to save only a few articles before she was forced to abandon their home.

Their refrigerator and washing machine were charred beyond use.

They have found a new home in Coldstream, but until the end of the month, the family will stay at the home of Mr. Penning's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Penning.

Vernon residents were quick to aid the family, Mrs. Fred Penning said.

"They've been very kind and have sent children's clothing and household articles."

But the fire still was a bitter blow for the Penning.

"It was very unlucky," Mrs. Penning, Sr., declared.

Vernon Fish Club President Explores With Famed Author

By IVY HAYDEN
Daily Courier Staff Writer

VERNON (Staff) — A visit with famous author Roderick Haig-Brown on a rainy afternoon is a memory J. U. Holt brings back from Campbell River.

Jim Holt, Vernon Fish and Game Club president, recently returned from a three-week fishing trip.

He and Haig-Brown had an appointment to fish for steelhead on files, but it was raining, and said Holt "I preferred to talk."

They retired to Haig-Brown's study, where they spent the afternoon "talking — primarily about the province's natural resources and wildlife cycles."

Haig-Brown has just published a sequel to his book — "Fisherman's Spring". It's called "Fisherman's Summer", and last month, an excerpt appeared in "Atlantic Monthly". This month an article of his has been published in "Sports Illustrated".

Most of Holt's holiday, however, was spent — "catching my limit of cutthroats and rainbows". The water in Elk River, he said, "was as clear as champagne."

Holt and a former Vernonite, Lorne Canetto, who now makes his home in Courtenay, fished for salmon in an area 40 miles north of Campbell River.

He also attended a meeting of the Campbell River Fish and Game Association.

"They have more problems than we have," Holt indicated. The logging industry has jammed access to the best fishing lakes, and the club has had to arrange for a member to attend the "gates" while others go fishing.

Nevertheless, Holt describes the area as "a fabulous country for outdoorsmen."

Pioneer Vernonite Dies, Widow Of Late Mayor

VERNON (Staff) — A resident of Vernon for more than half a century died Tuesday in Vernon Jubilee Hospital.

She was Mrs. Isobel Mutrie, 84, the wife of the late James Thomas Mutrie.

Her husband predeceased her in 1952.

Mrs. Mutrie was born in Seaforth, Ontario, in May, 1875. She came to Vernon in 1908.

Mrs. Mutrie was a charter member of Vernon Canadian Club, and for many years was active in Vernon United Church work. She has held executive positions with the Women's Auxiliary and the Women's Missionary Society.

Her husband also was one of the city's most respected citizens. He was mayor in 1913, and is believed responsible for the inception of the onion seed industry in the district. One of his most famous projects was his efforts for the development of Silver Star.

Surviving Mrs. Mutrie are two sons, Gordon, in Vernon, and Fergus, of Toronto. A daughter, Helen, also lives in Vernon. There are three grandchildren, Dorothy, James and Robert, and one great granddaughter, Gordon.

Mutrie is manager of a local accounting firm and Fergus, a CBC television executive.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. F. Grant Dunsmore of Vernon United Church. Interment will follow in the family plot, Vernon cemetery.

Campbell and Winter are in charge of arrangements.

Mayor Becker Confers With Premier Bennett

VERNON (Staff) — Mayor F. F. Becker, Ald. Harold Down and Board of Trade President John Ladyman had a chance to confer with Premier Bennett Tuesday night.

They were guests of the city of Penticton, at a banquet for the provincial cabinet.

It is believed the mayor had a chance to discuss what have been termed "important matters" by City Clerk Ian Garven. One of them, observers here believe, was the mayor's recent contention that Vernon was the province's "poor orphan" when it came to tourist trailer and camping facilities.

Microwave Hook-up Brings World Series To Valley

Television viewers of sporting events will be among the happiest when Kelowna television station hooks up with the trans-Canada microwave network Sept. 30.

The station kicks off its live telecasting that date with the World Series.

Shows from eastern Canada and the U.S. will be shown, not live, but at the same local time as they were telecast in the east. These are "taped" in Calgary from the live broadcast and relayed at the right hour.

The cross-Canada system went into operation July 1, 1958, but points lying north of the main system were still without the service.

The "spurs" to the valley are the first to be tied in B.C. The signals are beamed from Hedley to Summerland and from there to the big dish on the roof of the Kelowna station.

Three relay stations and a site to reflect signals are required to reach Kamloops from the trunk line in southern B.C.

This new communication system—built by the country's seven major telephone systems grouped as Trans-Canada Telephones—does not only makes possible an all-

Canadian transcontinental television network, but also provides an almost unlimited supply of long haul telephone circuits and other communication facilities. The basic network comprises 139 relay points across the 3,000 miles from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Spurs to cities require another 28 relay stations.

Construction of the over-all system—costing between $40 and $50 million—has been described as a major engineering feat without parallel in this country.

The large number of communication circuits which the microwave system provides will pave the way for implementation of the telephone systems' dialing program under which operators initially—and subscribers eventually—will be able to dial direct to telephones anywhere in Canada or the United States.

Cabin Development Against City Bylaws

Tony Curtis makes a big hit in his first comedy role in "The Perfect Furlough" to be seen at the Boyd Drive-In Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Also playing with him for the first time in this type of film is his wife Janet Leigh who does a superb job along with Argentine cutie Linda Cristal.

This is a heart-warming comedy for the whole family of a soldier in an Arctic base who wins a perfect furlough in Paris with the women of his choice in a cooked-up raffle. He picks Janet and Linda and although under heavy guard to avoid scandal, manages to get into a number of hilarious escapades.

Disbandment Peril Hangs Over Chest

If this year's community Chest appeal does not net a working reserve of at least the current $2,500, the Chest will have to disband or curtail payments to participating agencies, the executive was told Tuesday.

On what he termed a "pessimistic note", Chest chairman Dave Northrop said, "It does not seem likely we will meet the 1959 objective, so it does seem likely we will have to disband."

Kelowna needs a united appeal for its efficiency and economy, he stressed. "With so many campaigns taking place in the city it is growing increasingly difficult for us to raise enough money to fulfill commitments to our agencies."

"If we go below our objective we won't be able to operate another year."

Addressing the meeting as chairman of a Junior Chamber of Commerce steering committee on united appeals, Ed Dickens said the Chest should raise its objective by $10,000 or disband before this year's campaign.

Mr. Dickens said his committee felt agencies participating in the chest are "not receiving a fair share of the public's giving."

If the objective was raised by $10,000 the agencies' shares would be in proportion to cash received by agencies not participating in the Community Chest, he stated.

The chest objective for this year's drive is $25,500, about $3,000 higher than total contributions received in the 1958 campaign.

Monday, kick-off day for the 1959 appeal, from one to 22 volunteer canvassers start ringing doorbells in each of 28 city zones. Payroll deduction campaign will begin immediately.

In his report Tuesday, Dickens told the executive the three agencies independent of the chest make the campaign less than a true united appeal.

Only with a true united appeal will all agencies be taking part in a "one-for-all, fair-share giving campaign." The Red Cross, Kinsmen, Mothers' March and Cancer Society have turned down invitations to join the Community Chest.

He said the people of Kelowna want a united appeal. The Junior Chamber, in a recent survey, found 85 per cent of those polled expressed a desire for a completely united appeal, he said.

A Jaycee questionnaire testing public opinion was sent to 400 homes and 350 holders of trade licenses.

His report recommended that the Jaycees make representation to city council to place the question before the voters in conjunction with the up-coming December municipal elections.

The chest executive did not raise the objective, and made it clear disbanding before the campaign was "out of the question."

In the meantime plans are brewing for an all-out drive.

The business appeal gets underway today when canvassers call on management to do a selling job on the payroll deduction plan.

Displays showing the work done by Chest members will begin to appear in downtown store windows.

"United Appeal" place mats will be distributed to hotels, three types of posters will be set up in business places and on lamp posts, glass doors will carry United Appeal push-pull cards.

This year's slogan, "Be glad you can give, pledge your support and support your pledge," is a simple reminder that many are unable to give.

New Philatelic Group Numbers Are Increased

The Okanagan-Mainline Philatelic Association formed in June last continues to attract new members.

At Sunday's meeting held at the Valleyview home of H. F. Greenwood, two new members were welcomed from Ashcroft, hitherto unrepresented.

The afternoon was devoted to exchanges. At the evening session it was decided to put out a sales bulletin as required, final decision on an exchange circuit was deferred and a sales circuit was approved. Sales manager will be F. T. C. Torreggiani, Kamloops, with H. G. Walburn, Kelowna, supplying the sales sheets.

The idea of stamp displays was agreed to in principle but purely on a local basis, with possibly each centre to consider the setting up of frames which could be sent to districts sponsoring exhibitions. Local museums were suggested as suitable venues for changeable displays.

With a view to wider circulation of kindred stamp interests the association decided to affiliate with the Northwest Federation of Stamp Clubs.

The December meeting will be held at Kelowna.

Should Join Civil Defence For Purely Selfish Reasons

Should you pick up this paper tomorrow and read a headline saying that winds blowing in this direction are carrying the menacing dust from a nuclear explosion, what will you do?

Will you panic? Will you help to overwhelm the telephone system with calls to emergency services for advice? Or will you be one of the minority who knows what action to take; one of the few with a basic knowledge of how to set about preserving the lives of their families and themselves?

In the likelihood of such a calamity there will be many who will panic as they recall rather frightening odd items which they just glanced at in their newspapers, to which they turned a deaf ear when a radio disc session was interrupted by a newscast.

And the small minority? They will be the handful who have taken the trouble to enrol in Civil Defence and have been taught something about what is needed for survival.

Many of the majority comfort themselves now by saying, "If anything happens I will do my bit, but..." They forget that if there is another major conflagration things will happen with devastating speed. It will then be too late to think about equipping oneself against eventualities.

Trained or even partly-trained Civil Defence workers will be an asset in helping to succour those too young or too old to look after themselves, to help the injured, to help the homeless. But untrained able-bodied citizens will be something of a liability.

At the moment Kelowna and district has between 500 and 600 Civil Defence volunteers—public minded persons willing to give up some of their leisure to train for this vital work. They realize, and some of them have had personal experience in other countries, that in modern warfare the non-combatant civilian is often in the front line of battle.

Civil Defence in this area needs another thousand volunteers. Do you wish to be of use to your fellow citizens or do you wish to be a burden to them? Do not think of the nation's citizen army as Civil Defence. Think of it as Civil Survival. Doesn't that make you think?

National Immunization Week

Canada's seventeenth National Immunization Week sponsored by Health League of Canada in cooperation with Departments of Health, is this week. This event, second in importance only to National Health Week, involves the cooperation of all publicity media in Canada. Undoubtedly because it brings a knowledge of how to prevent the various communicable diseases of childhood by means of immunization into virtually every home in Canada it has been a factor in the tremendous fall in incidence and death rates over the years.

The record for the year 1958 shows evidence of a steady fall in incidence and death rates over the period during which National Immunization Week has been observed. There were during the year 1958 66 cases of diphtheria and six deaths, the lowest incidence in history. There have been no cases of smallpox in Canada during twelve years. Whooping cough with 6,932 cases and 40 deaths in 1958 is also the lowest recorded in history. There were twenty-six deaths from poliomyelitis, an all-time low but the incidence of 323 cases is a little worse than the previous year.

However, Canada's record is not as good as it might be. In diphtheria prevention, for example, Canada lags behind Great Britain (England and Wales) which with a much larger population only had 37 cases and six deaths in 1957. In all three diseases some provinces are better than others. One wonders why.

In any case Canadians during National Immunization Week should learn the lesson that diphtheria, smallpox, whooping cough, poliomyelitis and tetanus are diseases which are largely preventable by means of immunization. Many years ago the late King Edward VII said of tuberculosis, "if it is preventable, why not prevent?" This is true of the diseases mentioned in this editorial. Doctors, nurses, health departments and clinics throughout the country stand ready to do their part. It is now up to parents to see to it that their children are protected.

REPORT FROM THE U.K.

Nine Out Of Ten Printing Unions Accept Settlement

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.)
Correspondent
For The Daily Courier

LONDON—Leaders of the 10 unions who negotiated the settlement which ended the six weeks' long strike in the printing industry by accepting the peace terms worked out in conferences under the chairmanship of Lord Birkett, have new troubles on their hands. Under the settlement terms, the unions were given eight weeks to take a vote of their membership on acceptance or rejection of the terms, which provided for a 4½ per cent pay increase, and a cut in hours from 43½ to 42.

The vote has now been taken. Nine of the unions have accepted the terms by an overwhelming majority. But the 10th union, the National Society of Electromechanical and Stereotypers, rejected it by a vote of 207 to 140. The total vote of all 10 unions was 107,092 in favor of the settlement and 32,874 against. The net result is that the members of the nine unions in favor of the terms will now receive the wage increase, dated back to August 6, and the shorter work week, plus an allowance for the extra hours worked since the men returned to their jobs. The members of the 10th union, however, will continue to work on their old conditions, and should they later decide to accept the settlement terms, there will be no retroactive payments.

Under the terms of the Birkett settlement, a further period of four weeks will be allowed to give the electromechanical and stereotypers an opportunity to take another vote in which they might change their minds. And under the agreement, the nine assenting unions are pledged to use every means of persuasion in an effort to secure acquiescence from the stereotypers. Talks have been going on at Blackpool, where the 10 unions are represented at the Trades Union Congress, towards this end.

SECOND SNAG
Another snag has occurred to upset the printing union leaders. By a large majority, the 2500 workers in the printing ink industry have voted against acceptance of pay-and-hours similar to those accepted by the printing unions in the Birkett settlement. This was a serious rebuff to the leaders of their union, the National Society of Operative Printers and Assistants. The union leaders recommended acceptance of the union accepted. But the printing ink industry workers turned down the terms, and created new problems for their leaders to solve.

But the results of these ballots will not bring about another

PARKING BICYCLES

Dear Sir:—
For some time I have thought of calling attention to the practice of parking bicycles on the sidewalk against Long's Drug Store at the Bus stop.

One day I counted seven, some of them, sprawled across the sidewalk.

It is most inconvenient for boarding the Bus, especially for elderly people or mothers with babies in their arms. One lady caught her coat on a pedal which caused a slight delay.

Last Friday at 4:10 p.m. there were only two but the passengers had umbrellas and parcels to carry and it was raining.

I have no doubt if the boys were spoken to loudly, they would park their bikes farther along the sidewalk.

An Old Age Pensioner.

The pay is better, too.

HOUSING SHORTAGE

Old Age Pensioners Flock To Coast For Mild Climate

VANCOUVER (CP)—A shortage of low-rental houses in Vancouver has been caused by an influx of old age pensioners seeking a mild climate, say some experts in the field.

A waiting list of more than 500 persons, who can't afford to pay high apartment rents, is reported by the Vancouver Housing Association.

Service clubs have invested large amounts in low-rental homes, and city council has sponsored two housing projects for the aged, but these are promptly snapped up. Cottages for single old age pensioners rent for $17 a month. The rent for a couple's home averages $35 a month.

Spearheading the association's program to provide more and better homes for the aged is P. R. Stratton, a city accountant. He supervises a senior citizens' housing registry, and says the number of aged in British Columbia is proportionately the highest in Canada.

"Many of them cannot afford to buy a home or rent a flat. A low-rental home is the answer to the problem. Unfortunately, we haven't a sufficient number to meet the demand."

"The federal government should provide greater financial help for the building of the tiny cottages."

"Up till now most of the money has come from charitable sources. This is wrong. The old people should be taken care of by the government."

The government, through its housing agency, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, provides long-term loans at low interest rates to companies undertaking a housing project for the aged.

The B.C. government makes capital grants equal to one-third of the cost of projects.

Of the nine projects in Vancouver, eight are sponsored by charitable organizations and churches.

"There is no great financial inducement for private enterprise to build such homes," said Mr. Stratton.

neck in politics, and loves it, and, like all good politicians doesn't always say what she means.

She's a good politician, too, as ex-President Harry Truman will tell you. Her campaigning for him in 1948 helped him win, though, as she admits herself, she didn't have as much luck for "dear Adlai."

Miss Bankhead has been spending a month in Victoria, as guest of an old friend and former secretary, Mrs. Dola Davendish, who has a lovely home on the waterfront here, next to Hatley Castle, which her father, the late Hon. James Dunsmyr, one-time Premier and Lieutenant of B.C. built in 1908.

Mrs. Cavendish gave a press party for Miss Bankhead, and it was an uproarious affair, with heart of the whole show, and having only one drink as far as one could see, in a silver and gold chalice-like mug. She puts on a terrific performance, and if anyone else did it you couldn't be bothered. But Tallulah is so genuine, so dynamic, that she's altogether wonderful, and you never tire of her and just can't resist her. She clowns, and never stops taking, but it's no glitzy or small-talk she talks.

Her brain is a beauty and quick as quick, and the torrents of talk are never mixed up, so clearly does she think. You find yourself entranced and enchanted. It's never dull when Tallulah's around.

She said she's going to campaign next year for the Democratic nominee for President, but she said she doesn't know yet who he'll be, but she'll be in there pitching, and she hopes "dear Adlai" won't run again, because she's so sweet, and she couldn't bear to see him defeated, though she doesn't think much of him as President, is a dear, sweet old daddy sort of person, and she has the most adorable house in east 62nd street in New York city, right in the heart of the antique stores, and don't you dare think that appropriate, darling, and Laurett Taylor is the greatest actress she's ever seen, and Ethel Barrymore the most wonderful person in the world, and her daddy, the late Speaker William Bankhead the most wonderful man and all her life she has loved politics, but she wouldn't be found, dead in politics, and when she goes to Carolina she speaks with a southern drawl.

Yes, a Tallulah party is really quite something, and you come away knowing you have met one of the most gossiped-about, vital and dominating personalities in the theatre world of today, and in politics, too, and you're only sorry because Tallulah insists she never run for public office.

NEW CONCERTO
LONDON (AP)—Dmitri Shostakovich's new concerto for cello and orchestra was given its first public performance Monday at Moscow's Composers Club.

OTTAWA REPORT

Farewell To Canada's G-G

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Everything's up to date in E. town City!

Two nights in our Capital last week illustrated that there is no unnecessary hustle in the dreamy way of life in what is no longer a rollicking lumber-town.

Unstamped mail was being sent out of Government House, as recently as the day before General Vanier was installed as our new Governor-General, under the frank "J. P. Delaude, Secretary to the Governor-General (Administrative)". Mr. Delaude left his longtime job at Government House at the end of 1958, and has long since taken up his more vivid new post as Town Manager, or Mayor, of "The Hub of our Eastern Arctic", Frobisher Bay, on Baffin Island.

Fluttering outside the U.S.A. Embassy, facing Parliament Hill, the star-spangled banner proclaimed that there are 48 states in the Union. Of course, there are now 50. Last July 4th, the President decreed, a new flag became official, showing the addition of Alaska as a state, the 49 representative stars being arranged in seven rows of seven.

As from July 4th next year, the elevation of Hawaii to statehood will be recognized by the addition of a 50th star; the stars spangling the banner will then be arranged in nine staggered rows each containing six or five stars alternately. Meanwhile, the U.S. Embassy here is nearly three months late in reflecting its boss's decree.

FAREWELL TO G-G
Conservative Prime Minister John Diefenbaker was host at the farewell banquet to former Liberal Cabinet Minister Charles Vincent Massey last week, on the eve of Mr. Massey's departure from Government House.

Conservative politicians, representative of all three levels of Canada's governments, rallied to make it a memorable party for the time-expired Governor-General. Absent were fellow Liberals. Among those eligible as guests who did not attend were the only living Liberal ex-Prime Minister, Louis St. Laurent, who nominated Mr. Massey for the job; the only Liberal provincial premier, Joseph R. Smallwood; and the leader of the Liberal party, Hon. Lester Bowles Pearson.

WHAT MAKES MONEY TICKET?
Dr. W. H. McMillan, the double-threat politician-surgeon of Welland, Ontario, tells me "We have a new clinic and I am very interested in seeing it get properly under way. As to myself, I am working very hard at medicine and have almost forgotten politics." But he shows his continuing awareness of our public affairs, even when immersed in his new clinic during the parliamentary recess, by criticizing Finance Minister Fleming's argument that the $200 million borrowed by industry this year is responsible for pushing up interest rates. "This," says the Liberal finance critic, "is just peanuts beside the $2.2 billion which Mr. Fleming requires or is re-financing this year."

FAMOUS GASPÉ TOURIST
Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, accompanied by Mrs. Diefenbaker and by his private secretary, Vancouver lawyer Cowan Guest, is touring Gaspé Province by car and train this week. Starting in the Laurentians, then passing through the Eastern Townships and Lévis, he plans to make the much-praised touristic circuit of the real "Old Quebec" communities round the Gaspé.

LABOR SHUT OUT
Bristol, Gaitskill's first port of call, elected five Labor MPs to a single Conservative last time. Labor was virtually shut out in the surrounding West Country.

The 1955 results obviously played a large role in deciding the itinerary of both party leaders. Apart from the major cities, their ports of call almost invariably are constituencies in which the last election was decided by a margin of 2,000 votes or less. Safer seats have been largely ignored.

A week before the official closing date of nominations, 1,522 candidates have announced their intention to contest the 630 seats at stake.

Apart from the Conservative and Labor parties, with virtually full slates, the largest contender is the Liberal party with 213. Plaid Cymru, the Welsh nationalist party, has 20 candidates in the field and the Communists 18.

THE VICTORIA MERRY-GO-ROUND

By JAMES K. NESBITT
VICTORIA — "I wouldn't be seen in politics," said Miss Tallulah Bankhead. This, of course, was the understatement of the year, for Tallulah is up to her neck in politics, and loves it, and, like all good politicians doesn't always say what she means.

She's a good politician, too, as ex-President Harry Truman will tell you. Her campaigning for him in 1948 helped him win, though, as she admits herself, she didn't have as much luck for "dear Adlai."

Miss Bankhead has been spending a month in Victoria, as guest of an old friend and former secretary, Mrs. Dola Davendish, who has a lovely home on the waterfront here, next to Hatley Castle, which her father, the late Hon. James Dunsmyr, one-time Premier and Lieutenant of B.C. built in 1908.

Mrs. Cavendish gave a press party for Miss Bankhead, and it was an uproarious affair, with heart of the whole show, and having only one drink as far as one could see, in a silver and gold chalice-like mug. She puts on a terrific performance, and if anyone else did it you couldn't be bothered. But Tallulah is so genuine, so dynamic, that she's altogether wonderful, and you never tire of her and just can't resist her. She clowns, and never stops taking, but it's no glitzy or small-talk she talks.

Her brain is a beauty and quick as quick, and the torrents of talk are never mixed up, so clearly does she think. You find yourself entranced and enchanted. It's never dull when Tallulah's around.

She said she's going to campaign next year for the Democratic nominee for President, but she said she doesn't know yet who he'll be, but she'll be in there pitching, and she hopes "dear Adlai" won't run again, because she's so sweet, and she couldn't bear to see him defeated, though she doesn't think much of him as President, is a dear, sweet old daddy sort of person, and she has the most adorable house in east 62nd street in New York city, right in the heart of the antique stores, and don't you dare think that appropriate, darling, and Laurett Taylor is the greatest actress she's ever seen, and Ethel Barrymore the most wonderful person in the world, and her daddy, the late Speaker William Bankhead the most wonderful man and all her life she has loved politics, but she wouldn't be found, dead in politics, and when she goes to Carolina she speaks with a southern drawl.

Yes, a Tallulah party is really quite something, and you come away knowing you have met one of the most gossiped-about, vital and dominating personalities in the theatre world of today, and in politics, too, and you're only sorry because Tallulah insists she never run for public office.

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The official death toll from Typhoon Sarah—South Korea's worst natural disaster in 50 years—today shot up to 669. The ministry of health and social affairs said the tropical storm, which smashed into South Korea last Thursday with winds up to 138 miles an hour, also injured 2,784 persons and left 53,000 houses flooded or destroyed.

ANTI-RED ASSURANCE
BOJN (Reuters)—The United Arab Republic has assured West Germany it will not recognize the Communist East German regime, the East German foreign office declares. The statement followed consultations here with West Germany's Cairo envoy about reports that the East German trade mission in Cairo had been turned into a consulate-general.

New South Wales 'Hopper Plague'

By HAROLD TILLEY
Canadian Press Correspondent

SYDNEY (CP)—The Australian states of New South Wales and Victoria are threatened with a grasshopper plague which may parallel one experienced four years ago. Scientists say eggs beds examined this year are as heavy as any yet seen.

Areas menaced are the western and northern districts and the Hunter Valley of New South Wales.

In 1955, hoppers stopped road traffic by clogging motor radiators, trains skidded on rails, many were crushed by hoppers, and fields and orchards in the line of flight of devastating hordes were stripped of everything green in a few hours.

Government authorities and landholders hope that lessons learned in earlier years will cut the damage by hoppers if they reach the wing stage this year. Thousands of gallons of emulsion have been prepared for spraying at the right moment. Light airplanes are ready for attacks from the air and the Royal Australian Air Force may come into the fight as it has in the past.

Landholders are being encouraged to watch for hatchlings, report and spray them. The courts have ruled there is a legal obligation on landowners to suppress and destroy grasshoppers on their property.

Imported air-blast machines that force drift-spray insecticide over the ground are held in reserve for dispatch to stricken areas.

Flocks of this follow and destroy hoppers at the wing stage but it is difficult to co-ordinate the efforts of natural enemies and men armed with poison sprays.

BYGONE DAYS

10 YEARS AGO
September, 1949

Transfer of popular Corporal Bill Davidson, hero of the district policing around Kelowna, to Nelson, B.C., was confirmed. Cpl. Davidson's transfer becomes effective October 1.

Two men were killed and another was seriously injured in Summerland hospital, when a jeep in which they were riding left the highway half a mile north of Peachland. Dead are Robert Henry Abbott of Parksville, V.I., and Allan Olsson of Nelson. Injured is John L. Kramer of Vernon.

Decision of the Okanagan-Mainline Hockey League to up from Intermediate into Senior A class was one of the major developments arising out of the BCAA's annual meeting in Kamloops. Opinion was divided on whether it was the right thing to do. Even officials of the Kelowna Packers were taken aback at the sudden turn of events.

Ideal Indian summer weather has prevailed throughout the Okanagan during the past week, and clear skies and reasonably high temperatures are predicted for the next 48 hours.

20 YEARS AGO
September, 1939

Chief Justice Aulay Morrison in the Supreme Court granted an order to the city council of Kelowna allowing that body authority to tear down the Nychuck building, which has been the subject of lengthy litigation.

30 YEARS AGO

Capitol entertainment at the Empress Theatre was auspiciously inaugurated when Famous Players Canadian Corporation assumed control of the Kelowna theatre and the six other theatres on the Berry circuit. Lease of the theatres has brought about no change in local management or the personnel of the staff.

40 YEARS AGO

The coming of the Prince of Wales to Kelowna next Tuesday is the absorbing topic in many circles in town today. It is understood that the Prince will come into Kelowna by car from the north instead of by boat from the south, but there has been nothing official to this effect.

50 YEARS AGO

The Hedley Gold Mines Co. is the name of the corporation that has taken over the Nickel plate mine and the attached works, and the people of the town are much pleased at having the town's name included in that of the company.

Cooks Who Learn Chinese Art Have Eating Adventure Ahead

The old belief that "East is move from pan. Heat 1 table-spoon of oil; add celery and water chestnuts; stir-fry for 2 minutes then remove from pan. Add 2 tablespoons of oil to pan; heat. Fry halibut for about 3 minutes or until flesh has lost its watery look and taken on a milk-white color. Return vegetables to pan. Add pineapple and pineapple juice. Simmer mixture until thoroughly heated. Serve hot with rice. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Newspapers and magazines are printing Chinese recipes, and publishers are rushing new Chinese cook books to the press. Abreast of the times, supermarkets and other grocery stores are stocking Chinese condiments and canned grocery items such as bean sprouts, bamboo shoots, fried noodles, and water chestnuts.

Common methods of cooking in China are stir-frying, steaming, braising, and stewing. The Chinese stove is a hollow brick cube fired with charcoal. In the top are two holes, one for frying and one for steaming. Both steaming and frying pans have rounded bottoms which bulge down into the holes and receive a uniform amount of heat.

Foods are commonly seasoned with soy sauce, salt, monosodium glutamate and such flavoring agents as ginger, garlic, spring onions, and cooking sherry. Seasonings are applied during the cooking process, their chief function being to develop the original flavor of the food.

Salt is added to fried foods when they are about half cooked and it should be applied with discretion if salty-flavored soy sauce is also an ingredient.

Before commencing to cook a Chinese dish, an experienced cook has all the ingredients for the dish prepared and neatly arranged within easy reach. Once food is added to the pan, there is no time to look for something which is missing or to catch up with something undone, as the cooking time is so short.

Food is served immediately. It is taken from the stove for it allowed to cool, it loses full flavor. As an ancient Chinese proverb phrases it, "Better that a man should wait for his meal than that the meal should wait for the man."

Like some other nations internationally famous for their cuisine, the Chinese consider fish and shellfish to be prize delicacies and have devised many imaginative ways of preparing them. The home economists of the federal Department of Fisheries have recently tested some of these and have adapted them for Canadian use. Chinese seafood dishes can easily be incorporated into western style meals and by learning Chinese techniques with food, a homemaker can greatly enlarge her cooking repertoire.

Three popular Chinese seafood dishes are, Pineapple Halibut, Lobster Fried Rice, and Crab Foo Yung. Each of these dishes is an adventure in taste — "a thousand million miracles" — as they sing in "The Flower Drum Song."

Traditional Jobs Still Followed By Working Girls

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian women and their sisters in the United States still stick to the traditional women's professions—teaching, clerical work and nursing.

The women's bureau of the federal labor department has found that while Canadian women are gradually making a name for themselves in many professions, the majority are doing work traditionally considered "suitable for women."

Now the U.S. labor department women's bureau has published a report underlining the fact that women across the border also are still heading for the old standby occupations.

MOSTLY TEACHERS
The U.S. survey is reported in the current issue of the Canadian labor department's monthly Labor Gazette. It found that most of the 88,000 women graduates from colleges and universities became teachers. The largest proportion became elementary school teachers, and about half as many went into high schools.

Nursing moved into second place "probably as a result of recent intensified efforts to increase the number of 'degree nurses,'" the U.S. survey said. Secretaries and stenographers were moved down to third place.

There was no evidence that more women were interested in the physical and biological sciences, mathematics and engineering, although a few women entered these fields.

The Canadian bureau says the lesson to be read in the U.S. report is that there is a need to let more women know there are growing opportunities in professions not traditionally thought of as women's fields.

She also won two seconds for dresses in the teenage section.

By ALICE ALDEN
The fedora has been filched from the masculine head and it does well in its feminine incarnation, as shown by this pretty number, or beige beaver felt, the hat has a high, diagonally-

Mrs. Anna Sprott Invited Guest Of Soroptimists

Soroptimist Federation of the Americas, Kelowna Branch, held the first meeting of the new season at the home of Mrs. Phyllis Trenwith. President Miss Joyce French presided.

Owing to the inclement weather, relatively few members were present, but those attending enjoyed a pot-luck supper before the business session.

Names of six new members were approved. Each member was asked to bring a can of fruit or vegetables for a basket to be donated to the Boys' Town Club. Further donations were requested for a white elephant sale being held by the Junior Hospital Auxiliary in the near future.

In order to raise funds for the retarded children's schools, a draw has been arranged for a beautiful framed painting, which will be available to the general public.

Fall Fair And Home Show Opens Thursday Evening

Kelowna and district residents will have an opportunity to make a first-hand inspection of local products on display at the Rotary Club's Fall Fair and Home Show.

The three-day exhibit opens Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the Kelowna and District Memorial Arena.

Proceeds will go to the Senior Citizens' Home—a project undertaken by Rotarians several years ago.

Several new features have been added to the show this year.

And judging from a sneak preview of plans released this afternoon by Tom T. Tomiye, over-all chairman, there will be something of interest to every member of the family—from the small tot to adults.

For instance, so that Mother and Dad may stroll around the arena and inspect the exhibits, Rotarians have made arrangements for a pony ride which will be outside the ice palace. And if children prefer to stay inside, a huge mechanical ride has been set up.

Then, for the housewife, who is interested in baking, special arrangements have been made for holding a bake sale on Friday and Saturday evenings.

FASHION SHOW

The highlight of the show on the opening night, Thursday, apart from the diversified exhibits, will be a fashion show for men and women. The half-hour long show gets underway at 8:15 p.m. one hour and fifteen minutes after the arena doors open.

On Friday evening, there will be a special hobby craft display. And it's surprising the number of Kelownians who have a pet hobby. Some of these "home projects" will be on display, and no doubt many people—particularly men—will get some ideas on how to relax in their free hours.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN TOM TOMIYE AND

Saturday evening will be highlighted by a flower and vegetable show. Despite the lateness of the growing season, some top-notch flower and vegetable exhibits have been assured.

Rotary officials stated that all the floor space in the arena has been allotted to various exhibitors. And judging by the keen interest being shown by business firms, the 1959 fair is expected to top all the predecessors.

FREE BINGO GAME

The nominal admittance charge will entitle each person to participate in a free bingo game. There will be three door prizes each evening and on Saturday afternoon. Among the prizes is a 21-inch console TV set and a double-size electric blanket with dual control.

The produce section will feature three distinct classes—vegetable, fruit and flora. There will be 51 separate classes in these categories and cash prizes will be awarded in each class.

ENTRY FORMS

Entry forms may be obtained from Ben Hoy, 1902 Pandosy Street, but they must be in the hands of the chairman no later than Thursday night.

Fruit, vegetable and flower exhibits must be on display by 11 a.m. Saturday. The hall will be open to exhibitors at 9:30 a.m.

"Bigger And Better" Says Tom T. Tomiye

"It's going to be bigger and better than ever."

These are the words of Tom T. Tomiye, chairman of the Rotary Fall Fair and Home Show committee.

The popular Rotarian pointed out there are many more side attractions this year, while the commercial displays are more diversified.

Local Rotary Club officials expect that over 5,000 people will pass through the arena doors during the three day fair.

The three-ring circus atmosphere referred to by Mr. Tomiye is borne out by the fact that there will be different features on each of the three nights.

FASHION SHOW

For instance, on Thursday, there will be a fashion show, which will be of interest to men and women. On Friday night, a hobby display will be featured, along with a home cooking sale which is being arranged by Rotary-Anns. Home-made pastry and cakes, along with jams and jellies will be featured. These goods will also be sold on Saturday. Saturday evening will be highlighted by a vegetable, fruit and flower display.

The Kelowna Junior-Senior band, under the direction of Gar McKinley will be playing the three nights, and on Saturday afternoon, the Kelowna Sea Cadets will present a concert outside the arena.

"The door prizes will really be something," Mr. Tomiye emphasized. Saturday's door prize, for instance, is valued at $50.00. Prizes have been donated by various merchants in town, and will be drawn for hourly. Three prizes will be given away on Thursday and Friday nights, and six prizes on Saturday afternoon and evening.

In addition, a 21-inch console TV set and an electric blanket will be raffled at 10 p.m. on Saturday.

"No stone has been left unturned to assure success of this year's show," Mr. Tomiye declared. Even a snack bar has been set up for the convenience of those who may wish a hot-dog, sandwich or hamburger. Coffee will also be available.

CHOOSE ATOMIC HEAD

VIENNA (AP)—Dr. Hiro Furuchi of Japan was elected president of the general conference of the International Atomic Energy Agency Tuesday over a Soviet protest. Furuchi, Japanese ambassador to Austria, had 29 votes compared with 15 for Professor Gusorgul Nadjakov, Bulgaria's delegate. Russia accused the United States of breaking a gentlemen's agreement in seconding Dr. Furuchi's nomination.

Proceeds From Fall Fair Earmarked For More Senior Citizens' Homes

All proceeds from the annual Rotary Fall Fair and Home Show will go toward the construction of additional houses for senior citizens, among other local plan building additional homes. Under the scheme, the provincial of the Kelowna Rotary Club and federal governments contribute toward the housing project.

Mr. Haig pointed out that the homes constructed by Rotarians were quickly allocated as soon as they were built. There is now a lengthy waiting list of senior citizens wanting accommodation.

CANCELS PLAN

BERLIN (Reuters) — Premier Khrushchev will not head a Russian delegation attending East Germany's 10th anniversary celebrations Oct. 7, a Soviet Embassy spokesman said today. The meet stated military requirements, but also to provide a boost to world confidence in America's scientific capability.

URGE A-PLANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — All 18 members of the joint Congressional atomic committee joined Tuesday in urging that the United States put a nuclear-powered aircraft into flight as soon as possible. Noting that $300,000,000 already had been spent, the committee said "it is in the national interest to achieve nuclear flight as early as possible, not only to speakman said today. The meet stated military requirements, but also to provide a boost to world confidence in America's scientific capability."

ARCTIC EDUCATION EXPANDS

Northwest Territories School Kids Set Up Record 3,700 Enrolment

By DARYL L. SHARP

Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — School bells again are ringing in northern Canada for a record enrolment of nearly 3,700 students.

To handle these, a 20-per-cent increase over the number of pupils last year, 284 teachers are prepared to work long hours. Classroom work doesn't finish with the children. The teachers know that adult education and other community tasks often are included.

Most distant of the far-flung outposts is Resolute Bay, the weather station on Cornwallis Island, 2,100 miles from Ottawa and about 700 miles from the North Pole.

But there must be attractions to teaching in the Far North. About 500 teachers applied for 100 vacancies this year, and there are no summer holidays. The two-month vacation is spent giving special adult education courses.

FREE EDUCATION

School children in the Northwest Territories and northern Quebec received free education last year costing the federal government $2,718,000.

Mission parochial schools, for many years the sole source of education in the north, have almost disappeared since the first government elementary school was opened at Yellowknife in 1947.

This year the department of northern affairs has hired 284 teachers for 39 day schools and five hospital classrooms to serve an area more than a third of Canada's total area.

The department reports few difficulties in replacing an annual teaching staff turn-over of around 25 per cent — an average lower than the more southern school force.

Teachers sign on for a 12-month period, and are allowed three weeks leave. Basic salary range is $3,240 to $5,900 depending on experience and qualifications. An isolation allowance, varying from $400 to $2,000 according to location of school and marital status of teacher, is also paid. Transportation costs are paid by the government.

EXTRA DUTIES

In many areas the teacher is the only government representative, and handling mail, family allowance cheques and minor medical cases are just part of the regular duties.

Most recent addition to teaching facilities is at Inuvik, the new planned administration centre in the delta of the Mackenzie River. A 24-room school and hostel for 500 pupils opens there this year. Halfway up the Mackenzie, a new school with accommodation for 200 is being constructed at Fort Simpson.

Although many northern students are children of government or company employees working in a school area, the school population is predominantly Eskimo and Indian. There is no segregation.

The department estimates that about 40 per cent of school-age Eskimos now are receiving education. Nomadic families are encouraged to leave their children at one of the hostels, where the government feeds and clothes them for the 10-month school term.

Since 1949, when there was only one man in Ottawa whose sole responsibility was education in the north, the education division of the northern affairs department has grown to an administrative staff of 40.

MAIN TASK

The primary aim of the government's program is to provide northern citizens with a basic education and a better knowledge of English, but a good deal is also being done to train Eskimos in modern skills.

Last year, there were 185 trainees, old and young, enrolled in vocational schools.

In January, a new combined vocational and high school opened in Yellowknife. Including accommodation for 100 students, it provides training in diesel and auto mechanics, construction methods, industrial arts, and the use of heavy building equipment.

Often when a company planning a project informs the government in advance of its needs, Eskimos from the proposed work area can be specially trained to handle these jobs. This provides an outlet for skilled Eskimo labor.

However, there have been some complaints that more and more education is needed to allow the native to compete with whites for available jobs.

Whale Catch Sets Record

VANCOUVER (CP) — A record number of whales has been caught off the west coast of Vancouver Island in the season now ending, but total tonnage will be lower than last year.

The fleet of six whale-catchers of British Columbia Packers Ltd. some weeks before the season's official ending Sept. 30 had taken 834 whales, compared to a total of 774 last year. Nearly 200 of this year's however were small sea whales, caught in mid-season. Rare visitors, 14 blue whales were caught about 40 to 50 miles off Cape Cook recently. This is just below the northwest tip of Vancouver Island, and it is almost unknown for the big blues to be found so close.

Largest of the blues being processed was 83 feet long, nearly the maximum size for the species in the northern hemisphere.

Finback whales have been less prevalent this season, but sperms were numerous and about 200 were caught.

Many of the key personnel in the fleet are from Newfoundland and Norway, born and bred in the whaling industry.

INTERIOR VIEW OF MC & MC AT SHOPS CAPRI

Mc And Mc Has Served The Public 100 Years

Mc and Mc at Shops Capri is the newest of the firm's outlets in the province — a province that has seen more than 100 years of Mc and Mc service.

And though the store features many new methods of merchandising, that service will remain. Ultra-modern lighting and displays in the Capri location highlight one of the largest arrays of hardware lines in the interior.

Mc and Mc has always endeavored to keep abreast of the times. The firm maintains a streamlined operation throughout B.C., and by this system is able to bring savings to customers through large-scale co-ordinated purchasing.

The ear-let-purchased stock is housed in buildings containing more than one million square feet of floor space. Approximately 700 persons are employed in these warehouses and in the retail stores in B.C.

LARGE SALES FORCE

In addition the company em-

plays a large sales force to call on logging, mining and construction camps in B.C., Alberta and the Yukon Territories.

An example of ingenuity in providing service is the Mc and Mc motor boat "Sun-down." The vessel travels on the B.C. coast, calling on logging camps and canneries otherwise too isolated to serve.

The Capri store, too, strives for efficiency and customer service.

Manager Alex Ferrier has had wide experience in the Mc and Mc style of customer service and quality. Two years of his service with the company have been in Kelowna, where he has been well-schooled in the particular needs and wants of this district.

He, like his counterparts throughout the province is pledged to "maintain the standards that have characterized the business since its inception."

Diefenbaker On Grass-Roots Quebec Province Campaign

SOREL, Que. (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker is going through the Eastern Townships on a grass-roots visit to Quebec province and prepared for more of the same.

Thousands greeted him as he and Mrs. Diefenbaker toured this industrial community 40 miles east of Montreal. A civic half-holiday was declared for the occasion.

A scheduled cruise on the placid Richelieu River had to be cut short because the Diefenbakers were behind schedule.

A number of groups have been promoting a deep water channel down the Richelieu to Lake Champlain and on to New York City. After his abbreviated cruise aboard the government buoy tender Argenteuil, the prime minister said the proposed project will receive the serious study it deserves. He didn't commit himself further.

FLURRY OF SPEECHES
The Diefenbakers made 16 handshaking stops Monday and took two boat rides. The prime minister delivered five brief speeches in French and English and listened to 20 more.

He showed interest in the house at St. L'n where Sir Wilfrid Laurier, one of his boyhood heroes, was born. He recalled meeting the former Liberal prime minister while a newspaper delivery boy in Saskatoon.

"I was just a young boy," Mr. Diefenbaker recalled, "and Sir Wilfrid rewarded me handsomely for selling him a paper. He had some time to spare and he picked me up and placed me on the top step of the stairs leading to his train seat."

"He stood below me and un-noticed by anyone we talked for 35 or 40 minutes. He told me of the kind of country he wanted to make of Canada and I gave him my views. I shall never forget."

Schoolboy, 8, Climbs High Alpine Peak

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (Reuters) — An eight-year-old British schoolboy became the youngest person to climb the 12,000-foot Wetterhorn.

Timothy Fearon and his 12-year-old brother, Patrick, were taken to the summit by their father, London lawyer John Fearon, 45. Two Swiss guides accompanied them.

"I wasn't scared a bit," said Timothy. "But it was more fun going up than coming down."

The group started out in the afternoon, stayed overnight at a mountain shelter and reached the summit in the morning. Francis Fearon, was the first man to conquer the peak nearly 100 years ago.

H-H-L Film Company Dissolves

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What happened to Hecht-Hill-Lancaster?

Hollywood has been wondering about that ever since the news leaked out that the highly successful producing firm was dissolving. It's future had seemed solid. Biggest of the independents, its prosperity had helped trigger the new era of film making, with stars heading companies that rivalled the major studios.

Now H-H-L is no more. I sought the reasons from the last initials. But Lancaster explained as he changed into his '20s togs.

"We were losing money," he said. "It's as simple as that. No, it isn't really. There were other factors involved. We had built up an organization that was too big for the things we wanted to do. We had taken on some of the manifestations of a major studio. We couldn't show a profit and continue operating the way we wanted to."

He explained how film economics had tripped up himself and partners Harold Hecht and James Hill.

"It would have been easy to turn out the sure-fire pictures, the blockbusters. But we didn't want to do that. We also wanted to do the pictures that interested us as creators."

"But you can't spend two or three years preparing a film that might have limited appeal. Sweet Smell of Success cost $2,200,000 and it didn't do business. The Bachelor Party cost a million and it will barely show a profit. We won't get our money back on The Rabbit Trap, which cost $500,000. We have a wonderful picture in Take a Giant Step, but I doubt if it will make money."

How does he explain the success of Marty, which cost $300,000 and grossed $4,500,000.

"Maybe because it was the first of its kind," Lancaster said. "It was a tender story about two appealing people. It appealed to the public's heart. The Bachelor Party did not."

THIEVES NET $10,000

ST. ANDRE-AVELLIN, Que. (CP) — Four armed and masked men held up the St. Andre branch of La Banque Provinciale du Canada Tuesday and escaped with $10,000. The men forced manager Claude Pion to open the safe and then made their getaway in a car.

PLAN HONG KONG SERVICE

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian Overseas Telecommunications Corporation today announced plans to start exchange telephone service Sept. 28 between Canada and Hong Kong.

Australian Time Debts Worrisome

MELBOURNE (CP) — For a population of 10,000,000, Australia's instalment debt of around $700,000,000 worries some lay economists but official figures show the same people have $3,130,000,000 earning interest for them in saving banks.

The current figure of $790,000,000 for outstanding debts contrasts with only $198,000,000 in 1953.

Figures show that about two-thirds of the instalment business is in motor vehicles, a little in plant and machinery and one-quarter in household and personal goods.

Chrysler's Dart Impresses Newspapermen At Miami Show

MIAMI — At the end of the first of a two-day presentation extravaganza of the Chrysler Corporation's new 1960 automobiles, consensus among the 400 newsmen present was that the new Dodge Dart would make considerable impact in the economy.

The Dart won rather spontaneous approval in a fancy display of new Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto, Chrysler and Imperial members of the Chrysler family.

Earlier, L. L. Colbert, president of the Chrysler firm, spoke optimistically of 1960 sales and models shown have more comfortable seating angles, a new tuned-unit body structural design to prevent vibrations and improvement in safety qualities.

The Dart made an impression because of its clean sensible lines and distinctive styling. It has a neat grille, with the Dart's distinctive styling, fins have been reduced to a token design.

The new car comes in three models — Seneo, Pioneer and Phoenix. It has a 118-inch wheelbase and is available with six or eight-cylinder engines.

FINE MODIFIED
Except for the Plymouth, fins on the new models have been modified. All new models will be subject to an anti-corrosion process involving seven external and internal body dip sequences to combat the persistent problem of rust.

The new Plymouth has almost root lines and a poised action look at the front. Dodge models for 1960 are distinguished by new tube rear fenders. There is added gracefulness in the new DeSoto, with a fine-tuned modernization.

tional new grille claiming attention.

The thrust line of the new Chrysler extends from the front to the rear in a sweeping, unbroken line. The Imperial Le Baron has a smaller, tailored rear window which accents its limousine quality. Sedan models are carrying a new version of the Southampton canopy roof, accented by chrome moldings.

The keynoting address by the Chrysler Corporation president was a forceful, confident and well-documented prediction of a continuing upsurge in the general economy of North America.

The car market in 1959 has shown an increase of 37 per cent over 1958, some seven per cent greater than forecast.

With many more people thinking actively of buying durable goods requiring a sizeable outlay, there should be a retail car market in 1960 of between 6½ and 7 million new vehicles. Sales this year are expected to total 6,400,000 units.

Population, the number of households and the trend towards suburban living continued to reflect marked growth, and along with this a revolutionary change in people's basic attitude towards the automobile could be developing. This could present the industry with opportunities and potentialities greater than any experienced in the past.

Mr. Colbert said the 1959's have been for Chrysler in many ways a time of preparation for the opportunities of the 1960's. Exclusive of the cost of tooling the firm has invested close to a billion dollars in an intensive program of expansion, improvement

Names In The News From Canadian Press Dispatches

GEORGE MARKS, a trust company president, withdrew from the mayoralty race over the weekend to throw his support behind the only other candidate opposing Mayor Don Mackay in next month's voting. Still in the running is Harry Hays, a farmer and businessman.

Hays was the operator of one of the largest dairy farms in Alberta. Located south of Calgary, a portion of the property has since been subdivided for houses.

Mayor Mackay is well-known in Kelowna and was one of the most popular Regatta Commodores. He was the target of criticism following an investigation of charges that he had used his position for personal advantage.

ACCORDING to R. E. Hartle, president of the Winnipeg branch, Canadian Postal Employees Association (CPEA), Canadian postmen cannot live on their salaries. Mr. Hartle lives in Winnipeg.

TOM FORD of the Lacombe Globe was elected president of the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association, succeeding Roy Willis of the Stettin Independent. The weekly publishers recently held their annual convention in Banff.

CHARTERED ACCOUNTANT Alister Stewart said he is "getting a little tired" of constant criticism by officials of the International Union of Mine Mill and Smelter Workers (I.U.M.S.W.) of a report he made on financial affairs of the union's Sudbury local.

DONALD KOYL, national president of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards, has called for a royal commission to study land use in Canada. He addressed the annual convention held in Saskatoon.

DAILY STEAMSHIP service between Vancouver and Victoria will be continued beyond Sept. 26 it was announced by J. N. Fraine, vice-president and general manager, Canadian Pacific Railway Company at Vancouver. This service had been scheduled to terminate for the winter season on Sept. 27. In announcing the change, Mr. Fraine stated that extension of the service was being made in order to provide full opportunity for those who have become accustomed to using it over the many years it has been in existence to make other arrangements.

TRUCK DRIVER FOSTER LEWIS, 24, of Toronto was surprised when he saw an unhooked tractor-trailer pass him on Highway 27. Then he looked behind at his own trailer and discovered it wasn't there.

The trailer rolled into the centre boulevard of the dual highway and stopped on the grass. A broken pin had caused it to snap loose from the truck cab.

AT FREDERICKSBURG, Va. twin sisters, married to brothers, gave birth to sons within 40 minutes of each other. Furthermore Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Lewis Dulin and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Everett Dulin had a double wedding and each already have one son. While the sisters tend their identical homes, side by side, the brothers work at identical jobs for a contractor.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL VANIER, an old infantry hand, unveiled a massive granite memorial to the heroes of the Royal Regiment of Canadian Artillery in Ottawa. It was his first official function since becoming governor-general. The moving, sun-washed ceremony took place in Major's Hill park, just below Parliament Hill, and was attended by some 2,000 people. The majority of those present were army officers in dress uniform, widows and mothers of fallen artillerymen.

ERNEST L. BUSHNELL, 58, vice-president of the CBC, returned to his desk in Ottawa after a three-month rest from a heavy load of work and difficulties that beset the publicly-owned corporation last spring and summer. Mr. Bushnell was given leave late in June, shortly after his dramatic appearance before the Commons broadcasting committee to deny charges of "clandestine political interference" with CBC management. The charges were raised after he suspended Preview Commentary, morning radio program of political opinion from Ottawa, and practically the entire production personnel of the CBC talks and public affairs department—about 35 employees—resigned.

RICHARD THOMPSON CHRISTIE, 75, a civil engineer who designed several early railways in New Brunswick, Ontario and British Columbia, died in hospital in Windsor, Mr. Christie joined the old Intercolonial Railway in 1905 and worked as a construction engineer on lines in northern New Brunswick. He later joined the CPR on projects near Fernie, B.C., and Belleville, Ont. Since 1923 he had been with the engineering staff of the Canadian Cypsum Company at Windsor, N.S.

AT FREDERICKTON Hon. George Black, 86, has returned to his native New Brunswick from Dawson City to find the plaques used in one of the last duels in Canada and present them to the New Brunswick Museum. The duel was fought Oct. 2, 1821, at Maryland settlement near Fredericton. Mr. Black's maternal great grandfather, George Watson, was killed by George Street. The two were lawyers and decided to duel after a verbal argument in court.

NEW BRUNSWICK, 24, the morning paper, and British Columbia Daily Courier, 24, took out a marriage licence in Hollywood. The romance started last season on Broadway when they co-starred in the hit play Rasomon.

J. W. MURPHY, MEMBER of Parliament for Lambton West, said that oil and gas exploration on the Great Lakes must be stopped immediately. He told the Wallaceburg, Ont. Rotary Club that if the drilling is permitted it will finish the lakes fishing industry and "crucify" Canada's tourist industry.

RETIRED FARMER, M. C. McCusig, 80, of Regina, made a $18,000 donation to the United Church of Canada Fund. He said "those fellows do a good job and I wanted to help."

Toastmaster Club Makes Appeal For Members

Two new members! Bill Scott and Ted Cameron, were welcomed to Kelowna Toastmasters, by president Walt Laurie, at their weekly dinner-meeting Monday at the Royal Anne Hotel.

However, despite the acquisition of the two new voices, Bob Taylor, vice-president in charge of membership, has stressed that more members must be obtained.

A special appeal is being made this week to former members, and all who have been dilatory in their attendance. Fifteen new members are required to make membership satisfactory.

Transfers and other club commitments have interfered with the growth of the club which already has produced some excellent speakers. All men from 21 to 101 are eligible, and fees are nominal.

Monday night's program saw the following participate: Tabletop master, Bob Taylor; table topic speaker, Bruce MacMillan; Art Drake, John Ladd, Gordon Lamberton, Ted Cameron, Peter Barclay, Tom Capozzi, Ed Boyd, Jack Botham and Bill Scott; tabletop critics, Peter Barclay.

Toastmaster of the evening, Jack Botham, introduced the three formal speakers: John Ladd, who spoke on his overseas trip; Dick Hartwig, who spoke on his experience as a salesman; and Tom Capozzi, Khruschev, epitome of salesmanship.

Capozzi was voted best speaker and presented with the weekly silver cup. John Ladd won the medallion as most improved speaker. Respective critics for the three speakers were Art Drake, Ed Boyd and Walt Laurie. Gordon Lamberton officiated as general evaluator.

Democratic India Parties Join Forces

BOMBAY (CP)—Democratic parties in India's problem state of Kerala have decided to join forces in an effort to defeat the Communists in a general election expected early next year.

After several days of negotiations, Kerala's Congress, Praja Socialist and Moslem League parties agreed to form an united front to oppose the state's influential and well-organized Communist party.

Kerala's Communist government has been sacked by President Prasad and it is expected that the state's 13,500,000 people will vote in January or February to decide whether they wish to return to Communist rule. Prime Minister Nehru sent Lal Bahadur Shastri, his commerce minister, to Kerala to bring the democratic parties together in a strong electoral alliance. It was the lack of agreement between them that largely helped the Reds achieve power in the 1957 general election.

AGREEMENT SIGNED
The three parties have signed an agreement to contest the coming election as a single body. This will ensure that no democratic votes are split and that there are only straight fights between the Communists and the non-Communists.

Of the 126 constituencies, the Congress party has been allotted 79, the Praja Socialist party 35 and the Moslem League 12. The three parties will conduct the election campaign jointly. The question of issuing a "joint election manifesto" is also being discussed.

Press reports say the parties also have agreed that on winning the elections they should unseat Moslem elector Thana Pillai, a Praja Socialist leader, as the state's chief minister.

U.K. Journals Anxious Over U.S. Needling

LONDON (CP)—British newspapers are expressing anxiety less the United States "needle" Russia's visiting Premier Khrushchev to the sharp point, but several have said that the tough talk he has been given may have done some good.

There is widespread concern that this is a visit which could change the course of history, and thus should not be endangered. The London News Chronicle says American mayors and union leaders "are not entitled to sabotage a journey in which hundreds of millions outside America are involved."

The sharp-tongued columnist Cassandra in the pro-Labor London Daily Mirror says that since his arrival in the U.S. the Russian leader "has been subjected to a campaign of needling, veiled and not-so-veiled insults and has carefully been made the fall guy of plots to humiliate him by any municipal half-pint local jack-in-office who has been to take a cautious snap at the heels of the Russian bear."

BLOODY HANDS
"Now I detect this man," adds Cassandra. "Blood is on his hands." "But the United States did in fact invite him to be their guest in that great and wonderful country and they did so in the name of the person who occupies the White House, and most respected position, the land—that of the President of the United States."

TREASURED BELL OF JAYCEES AWAITS OWNERS AT KAMLOOPS

Kelowna Jaycees just can't wait to get to Kamloops for the district Jaycee conference there Oct. 10 and 11.

And the reason for their anxiety is not altogether a desire to get to grips with the conference agenda. In the vault of the Kamloops Sentinel is a treasured possession of the Kelowna boys—the bell from the Pandosy ferry given to them by Premier Bennett.

It was "borrowed" by Kamloops Jaycees who attended the Kelowna installation banquet and dance two weeks ago. Kelowna can recover it by attending the October conference.

Film Society Programs To Feature Classics From All Over The World

"Monsieur Hulot's Holiday" a French comedy directed by Jacques Tati was viewed by over 100 members of the Kelowna Film Society Monday night in the Okanagan Regional Library.

Mrs. Heather O'Grady informed those attending that the society plans to present a wide variety of films throughout the year from Europe, Asia and America. Three films were shown. One was a short comedy and the second, Ten Fathoms Deep, featured life beneath the sea and the dangers encountered by deep sea divers in exploring barnacle encrusted ships in Davy Jones' locker.

Jacques Tati, who directed and starred in "M. Hulot's Holiday," portrayed an eccentric but hilarious young man on holiday at a French sea-side resort.

Ygetsu, a Japanese film, will be shown in the library on Monday, October 19. The director of this film also directed Rashomon and Seventh Samurai, two outstanding Japanese films.

Film Society tickets have been a complete sell-out, and only membership holders may attend. It is hoped to have a larger society next year, when more seating will be available.

New Zealand Apples To Be Processed Here

With truckloads of New Zealand apples arriving in Kelowna during the next ten days an interesting example of helping a fellow nation takes place.

New Zealand produces about half the tonnage of apples that the Okanagan Valley does and yet it has no processing outlets. The Marketing Board is interested in establishing such an industry, but first must determine whether the New Zealand housewife will purchase such products as apple sauce, apple pie filling and juice.

New Zealand usually ships fresh fruit into the United States. Some 8,000 boxes of their Jonathan, Delicious and Granny Smiths have been in cold storage in San Francisco.

The fruit is being trucked to Kelowna, where it will be manufactured into sauce, pie filling and juice. The finished products will then be shipped to New Zealand for test marketing.

All costs involved are being paid by the New Zealand Marketing Board. The decision of whether to establish a processing industry in New Zealand will largely depend on the reaction of the consumers to the products manufactured in Kelowna from the New Zealand varieties of apples.
